

Investment Banking Asia Pacific

Citi Markets and Banking

Through IPOs, bonds, asset-backed securities and other innovative derivative products, Citi has financed a wide range of projects in Asia and Australia across all key infrastructure sectors, including power, energy, semi-conductors, display devices, software services, electronic manufacturing services/original design manufacturing, financial institutions and telecommunications. Citi has received numerous awards in the region, which include Best M&A Deal by both Asia Money and Finance Asia (2007), Best Bank in Asia by Finance Asia for three consecutive years (2005-2007). In July 2007, Euromoney named Citi the Best Bank in Asia, for the eighth consecutive year.

Summer Analyst Program

Commencing in mid June, this program will provide an excellent training ground for undergraduate students. Summer Analysts will gain in-depth insights into a wide array of financial products through a series of classroom training and business presentations by our senior managers, as well as networking opportunities in social events. They will be introduced to a vibrant investment banking operation and obtain actual industry experience by being assigned to different industry, product, or country coverage groups within Citi Investment Banking.

Program Description

Summer Analysts will work closely with full-time professionals putting together client proposals and presentations, company research, comparable company analysis, models and valuations. Asia based Analysts will also interact with colleagues in London, New York and Tokyo in order to provide financial advisory services and execute highly complex financings in multiple currencies in a variety of cross-border configurations.

If you choose to pursue a Summer Analyst position with us, this is a short list of some of the industry & product groups in Asia in which you may work:

- Telecommunications, Media and Technology
- Financial Institutions Group
- Financial Entrepreneurs Group
- Industrial
- Energy, Power & Chemicals
- Mergers & Acquisitions
- Real Estate
