Gender-balanced boards are proven to result in greater business success, and yet women are still hugely underrepresented in boardrooms across the world. The Women’s Directorship Programme, now in its eighth year, addresses this imbalance by enabling more board-ready female leaders to rise to the challenge.

Registration close: Friday, 14 August 2020

Through a comprehensive combination of lectures, interactive sessions, leadership exercises and input from international faculty members and senior business leaders, the Women’s Directorship Program offers a blend of both academic and practical learning, both online and in-person. The programme serves to address contemporary issues in the workplace, across industries and geographies.

The Women’s Directorship Programme is designed to help participants develop their own set of strategies tailored to their career ambitions, situation and personality, recognising that these will evolve over time as new challenges arise and elements in their lives change.

The six-day programme, split into two sessions of three days each, will be held at The University of Hong Kong’s Cyberport Campus.

Participants will have the opportunity to meet and network with counterparts from different countries and influential guest speakers, such as:

Anne Minto, iNED of Shire and Tate & Lyle
Donald Brydon, Chairman of Sage Group
Dr. Raymond Ch’ien, Chairman of Hang Seng Bank
Jean-Pascal Tricoire, Chairman & CEO of Schneider Electric

Who Should Attend
The programme is designed to equip participants with the skills and knowledge to assume boardroom responsibilities as a Director or Non-Executive Director.

"Tackling the current massive gender imbalance in the boardroom is a top priority for businesses around the globe. Boardrooms need to adequately represent their consumer base in order to be most effective. We wholeheartedly support this initiative to develop female leaders."

Rick Haythornthwaite
Chairman of Centrica and Mastercard

"This programme is absolutely crucial in making a difference at boardroom level as it serves to empower board-ready women to step up and maximize their potential. I look forward to working with participants to fulfil their professional aspirations and devise career strategies that will work for them."

Ruth Markland
iNED of Deloitte and Arcadis

"In this fast-paced world, we need to ensure the business community evolves to best reflect the interests of consumers – well balanced boardrooms are important in achieving success. This programme is most beneficial in terms of enhancing the development of women leaders to provide the next generation of board members."

Donald Brydon
Chairman of Sage Group

Programme Modules

Session 1
Module 1. The roles and responsibilities of board members
10th September
The first module of the programme provides participants with perspective on the roles of the board and supporting committees, plus practical insights regarding the roles and responsibilities of independent non-executive directors (iNEDs) in terms of the finance, audit, risk oversight and remuneration committees. This module will discuss the typical responsibilities of the nomination committee and explore the most effective processes for making board appointments.

Module 2. Strategic leadership
11th September
To achieve organisational goals, board directors as leaders, must collaborate with people across and outside of their organisational boundaries – serving to acquire new ideas and resources. This module will explore strategic thinking, focused on the benefits of various business models and their evolution, as well as understanding the key issues facing listed companies, and what and how to advise the board and managing executives.

Module 3. Persuasive communication and conflict resolutions
12th September
This dynamic, interactive communication module will engage participants in a full day of hands-on communication skills development, including board-relevant role-playing exercises and group work. This module will enable participants to contribute maximum value to their board by communicating key messages more effectively, whilst remaining dispassionate, data-driven and credible. The concept of executive presence will also be explored.

Session 2
Module 4. Securities market regulation
4th November
This module equips participants with a working knowledge of securities regulation and directors’ obligations and responsibilities with respect to the public companies they oversee. After working through case studies and examples from major public markets, participants will gain a better understanding of the often-problematic issues that regularly present themselves to directors of public companies.

Module 5. Ethics and compliance
5th November
This module focuses on moral philosophy, organisational psychology, and cognitive biology, with an emphasis on communication and ethical reasoning skills that impact on professional performance. Two primary areas of business ethics will be highlighted – firstly, how directors can utilise “moral architecture” to build mechanisms that help employees and executive teams avoid unethical behaviour. Secondly individual ethics will be discussed, reviewing universal cognitive biases, exploring how to best motivate people and how we can improve ethical decision-making.

Module 6. Board simulation exercise
6th November
This simulation exercise enables participants to put lessons learned throughout the programme into practice. This module will explore how to operate legally, ethically and efficiently in the current economic and legal environment. Participants will discuss how making decisions causes a ripple effect across the entire business.

Examination
The Women’s Directorship Programme is accredited as an MA equivalent. To receive this qualification all participants are required to undertake an examination at the close of the programme.

Views of past participants

Anna Yip
CEO SmarTone
“I joined the Women’s Directorship Programme a couple of years ago and found it a practical and refreshing learning experience. It opens the doors to the boardroom, demystifying the discussions and challenges facing board members globally. The programme enables more female talent to gain exposure to the high-level decision makers for future opportunities.”

Fumbi Chima
Chief Information Officer, Adidas
“The Women’s Directorship Programme serves to bring together women with the same aspiration of creating change, learn and challenge, team and network with each other.”

Agnes Chan
Regional Managing Partner, EY
“As a former programme participant, I strongly recommend it to a wider sphere of the women’s community, especially to those who aspire to a successful directorship role.”

Joanne Hon
GM, North Asia Broadridge and APAC Regional Director, Broadridge Asset Management Solutions
“A very rare but precious opportunity for professional women who are fighting an uphill battle in the business world, to share, challenge, learn and network with each other.”

Louise Moat
COO APAC (ex Japan) Nomura IBD
“For anyone considering taking on a directorship role, the programme offers an excellent opportunity to better understand the more formal, as well as the more practical aspects involved in becoming a board member.”
